What is SNAP?

SNAP is a committee that is represented and equally funded by the four curling associations in Alberta – Southern Alberta Curling Association (SACA), Northern Alberta Curling Association (NACA), Peace Curling Association (PCA), and the Alberta Curling Federation (ACF). The committee was established in early 2015 to investigate and recommend a new structure for the establishment of a single governing body of curling in Alberta.

Strategic Plan Framework

A Strategic Plan is an important part of any organization. It gives the organization clear direction and more importantly, allows the membership to understand the direction. Currently, there is no strategic plan for any of the 4 Curling governing bodies in Alberta. This leaves a significant gap in Alberta's ability to progress and move forward. Lacking a clear strategic plan has put us behind our sporting peers both within Alberta, and across the country.

As we progressed towards amalgamation, it was clear that there is an opportunity to fill this gap and build a Strategic Plan that will benefit our members and the curling community in Alberta. We have called this a framework, as the new organization will need to have the ability to finalize and then deliver on the plan in the next 3-5 years.

There are several parts that make up our strategic plan framework. These include: Vision, Mission, Values, and Strategic Priorities.

Vision, Mission, and Values

Vision – is an aspirational goal describing what an organization wants to become:

We are "recognized as the leader in governing and growing the sport of curling in Alberta."

Mission – is why an organization exists:

We "Grow, promote and govern the sport of curling in Alberta."

Alberta Curling Trivia

Did you know: The first Olympic Trials was held in Calgary in 1987 when Curling was a demonstration sport at the 1988 Winter Olympics also in Calgary.

Teams Linda Moore (Vancouver) and Ed Lukowich (Calgary) represented Canada at the 1988 Olympics and won Gold and Bronze respectively.

"Strategy is not the consequence of planning, but the opposite: its starting point." — Henry Mintzberg

Values – are guiding principles of the organization:

- Transparent: We are transparent, open, honest and accessible in all our activities.
- Inclusive: We are inclusive and non-discriminatory to all who wish to participate.
- Respect: We show respect by collaborating, communicating and cooperating with all individuals, members, partners, sponsors and stakeholders.
- Integrity: We operate on a basis of integrity, truth and trust.
- Standards: We operate only to the highest personal and profession standard in all relationships, programs and events.
- Innovation: We strive for creativity and innovation as part of a dynamic organization.
